

You're Invited!
March 9-10!

What is it?

... a center for theological education for the “everyday Christian” in the Mid-Columbia region.

Purpose

... to encourage, equip, and personally accompany followers of Jesus into thoughtful and wholehearted participation in His Life – in all of life –
in our homes, the workplace, and in our community.

Plan

... to establish a nonprofit, trans-denominational ministry to serve our community
– in partnership with individuals, churches, organizations, and institutions –
by providing programs of education and formative practices that help people live integrated and flourishing lives of faith and service as followers of Jesus.

Flourish Mid-Columbia...

Seeks to grow and mature people in the life and way of Christ who...

- think theologically...
- live relationally...
- do good work...
- practice healthy patterns of rest and work...
- lovingly serve others for their flourishing.

Friday, March 9, 6:30-8:30 pm

“A Vision for Vocation: An Evening With Steven Garber”

What does it mean to be called? Come hear Dr. Steven Garber offer a broad vision of calling (or as he puts it, vocation) that pertains to all of life – in our homes, workplaces, and community. Steve is a husband, father, author, professor of Market-place Theology and Leadership at Regent College, and the founding director of the Washington Institute for Faith, Vocation, and Culture in Washington D.C.

Steve says, “The word vocation is a rich one, having to address the wholeness of life, the range of relationships and responsibilities. Work, yes, but also families, and neighbors, and citizenship, locally and globally—all of this and more is seen as vocation, that to which I am called as a human being, living my life before the face of God.”

Coffee, beverages, and dessert provided.

Saturday, March 10, 9:00 am-12:00 pm

“Called to Flourish the Mid-Columbia”

What is God up to in our community to bring about the integration of faith, work, and everyday living?

Come hear about the formation and vision of “Flourish Mid-Columbia” – a center for theological education for the everyday Christian in the Tri-Cities. Steve Garber and Rebecca Pousette from Regent College and Dan Wodrich, Flourish Director, will share the story and identify whole-life discipleship activities and resources – currently available and being planned – to bless and benefit individuals, congregations, ministries, and workplace leaders and groups in our community. Come explore God’s call to each and all of us to share in His flourishing of the Mid-Columbia.

Coffee, beverages, and brunch snacks provided.

Location: Richland Lutheran Church, 901 Van Giesen, Richland
