Flourish Mid-Columbia Invites You To "ReFrame: Connecting Faith and Life"

The life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ reframes everything, bringing hope, life, and meaning to every part of human culture. And yet many of us can't see how our faith shapes much of everyday life and experience.

- What are God's purposes for us?
- What does it mean to be made in the image of God?
- How do we live in the world but not of the world?
- How does the biblical story reframe our story?

To help us learn how faith relates to all of life, the folks at Regent College have released ReFrame — a ten-session video course that explores what it means to follow Christ today. ReFrame seeks to explore how, in the words of Colossians 1:17, "in [Christ] all things hold together." Each episode is about 40 minutes long and includes a TED-style talk as well as brief interviews with people like Eugene Peterson, Scot McKnight, Katherine Leary Alsdorf, Andy Crouch, J.I. Packer, Susan Phillips, James Houston, et al. Each episode also features the story of a person trying to live out his or her Christian faith in a particular occupation or area of life such as teaching, astrophysics, parenting, law, car sales and service, coffee bean roasting, to name a few. Facilitated group discussion will follow after each episode.

"ReFrame is brilliant, accessible, and engaging. It invites an encounter with Christ and His vision for the world that leads to head, heart, and hands integration." (Senior Pastor, Pittsburgh, PA)

Cost: $25 per person (Includes participant's study guide)
